WORK/LIFE

In life, we have our good days, and other days... are challenging.

Whether relationship conflicts, financial instability, or health concerns, how we deal with these issues that come up at in our personal lives and/or in our work lives depends on our upbringing, the information at hand and resources available to us. Our choices, in the heat of the moment, may be detrimental to our work or personal life with side effects that at the time we could not imagine. Take a deep breath and count to 10.

Pause... do not react. The key thing to any issue is to find a solution sooner than later but after some thought, research and planification. The good thing is you have resources at your disposal and will now to do some research. With your employer, your employer you have some extra benefits that will assist you, greatly. Check out these some of the services available through your employer that will solve some issues or make life easier.

Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

Under the umbrella of the Mental Health and Wellness, Santa Clara offers its employees various services through Concern, a third party administrator. Below is a brief explanation of those services:

- Counseling Services that are both professional and confidential with convenient access whether for personal or work related support.
- Life Balance Resources which offer legal, financial and family care challenges, as well as, reducing stress and distraction.
- Health and Wellness tools providing self-help and interactive e-learning programs to help you in along with counseling or to make a change in your life.

Child and Elder Care

SCU, also, offers Child and Elder Care services through Bright Horizons. They assist employees with discounted services for childcare for full-time, part-time or back-up care , tutoring and summer camps. Elder care services include back-up care when regular arrangements fall through. Depending on your care needs, Bright Horizons will take your special circumstances into consideration.

Health and Wellness Events

Santa Clara also makes available workshops on various topics that you could not only inform you but help you. You will find topics such as health, nutrition, meditation, financial, retirement We have a few:

March 2—Mindfulness and Meditation for Self-Care

March 3—Blood Sugar Basics

March 7—Hefferman One on One Financial Appointment

March 9—One-on-One Nutrition Counseling

March 13—Reiki Sound Meditation

Faculty Staff Help Center

Through the Faculty Staff Help Center, Stanford offers free, professional and confidential counseling services, workshops, discussion groups and facilitated conversations. Check their Workshops and Discussions scheduled for the month of March:

March 2 — Connecting Withing Your Community: Facilitated drop-in LGBTQ+groups

March 8 — Postpartum Discussion Group

March 9 — Black Mental Wellness Beyond Black History Month

The above topics are scheduled monthly. Check Stanford's Website under Faculty Staff Help Center.

Child Care Services (and Pets)

Through Stanford's Website, you will find information and resources on child care including school age and backup services through Bright Horizons, learning resources and special needs resources. Stanford has child care on-site for which you will need to apply. And for those who have pets, there are resources for that too through Bright Horizons and pet insurance through Nationwide Insurance. Remember, one of the benefits that you have is the Child Care Subsidy Grant, if you meet the criteria for this assistance for child care.

Elder Care Services

For Elder Care support, Stanford in partnership with Avenidas Senior Center are providing resources and referral on housing, services, financial and legal services, and support. Avenidas, also, hosts numerous classes, seminars, conferences and workshops. In need of back-up care, contact Bright Horizons Back-up Care for your short-term needs when your regular caregiver is unavailable.

BeWell

Have you thought about you? Well with BeWell, it is time to decide it is time for you and walk the path of wellness. BeWell is a rewarding wellness program that encompasses physical, mental and social well-being. Program includes 1:1 support for your wellness goals, wellness classes and events. To name a few:
